

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY

BLOCK V: CIA'S OFFICIAL RELATIONSHIPS

This Block focuses on the "official environment" of the Agency. It includes CIA's relationships within the Executive Branch, in particular the NSC, State, OMB and Defense.

MORI/CDF

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY

SCOPE NOTE

THE DCI'S COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITIES

A top officer involved in Intelligence Community relationships will share his observations on the responsibilities assigned by the President to the Director of Central Intelligence in November 1971 for managing the Intelligence Community. He will also comment on the establishment of the National Security Council Intelligence Committee, the Intelligence Resources Advisory Committee, and the reconstitution of the United States Intelligence Board.

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY

SCOPE NOTE

INR'S ROLE IN THE COMMUNITY

The Director of Intelligence and Research, Department of State, will discuss his Bureau's responsibilities for intelligence support of the Secretary of State. He will also examine current working relationships between INR and the Agency.

Page Denied

SCOPE NOTE

NSA AND CIA: COMMUNITY RELATIONSHIPS

A top official of the National Security Agency will review NSA's responsibilities in the Intelligence Community, highlighting selected activities and major problem areas. He will also examine NSA's relationships with CIA.

SCOPE NOTE

THE NSC SYSTEM: HOW IT WORKS

The Staff Secretary of the National Security Council will describe the decision-making process in National Security Affairs. She will comment on NSC staff relations with CIA and the role of the National Security Council in the intelligence framework.

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY

SCOPE NOTE

HOW OMB LOOKS AT THE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY

An OMB officer will discuss the Intelligence Community from OMB's perspective. He will discuss program planning and budget processes and their effect on management decisions in the Intelligence Community. The impact of budgetary constraints on intelligence activities and OMB-CIA relations will also be covered.